One Incumbent Supervisor Survives Tuesday's Runoff

Port And Harbor Receives Funds

Hancock County became $100,000 richer Thursday when David S. Maney, director, Southeastern Region Economic Development Administration, Huntsville, Ala., delivered a check from his organization to the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission.

The funds are an interim payment towards the $4.6 million public works project jointly financed by the EDA and the county.

The presentation is a giant step away from normal EDA policy which states that all construction projects must be financed by the county.

The presentation is a giant step away from normal EDA policy which states that all construction projects must be financed by the county.

TAX COMPLAINTS

Bay St. Louis property owners paying front footage taxes are urged to file complaints by September 8, Tax Commissioner Andre Arceneaux said.

Response from property owners for inspection of tax assessments has been surprisingly slow, he added. After September 8 no changes can be made on tax assessments and there will be "absolutely no exceptions to this rule", Arceneaux warned.

Incumbents Lose County Offices

Hancock County voters elected a clean sweep in several offices Tuesday in a runoff election. Incumbents lost in all but one office.

J. D. Rutherford, Jr., incumbent sheriff, lost to Sylvan J. Ladner, Jr. by a vote of 4,242 to 3,854.

Funds Needed For Youth

Edward Lizans was an attractive, normal well-adjusted 15-year-old boy, born and raised in Bay St. Louis.

One of 11 children, he attended St. Stanislaus school where he was described by the brothers as a "strong average student, well-liked by his fellow students and with broad interests typical of a young man entering high school. He was active in sports and social activities of the school."

Airport To Receive Expansion Funding

Gulf Central Airport-Stennis Field is to get a $2.5 million expansion program commencing within the next six months.

Charles H. Hill, director, Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission, under whose auspices the field is being developed, made the announcement Thursday at a special dinner session of the commission at Diamondhead.

QUARTERBACK CLUB

The Hancock North Central Quarterback Club will have its first meeting of the season tonight at 7 p.m. at the school.

Anyone wishing to join the club is invited to attend the meeting. Coach Terry Randolph stated, and suggests that football followers be present for the last half hour of football practice tonight.

Health Officials

The Hancock County Health Department has been advised by the Mississippi State Board of Health that Campbell Soup Company is recalling all of the chicken-vegetable soup packages manufactured between Feb. 1 and Feb. 15, 1971.

Checking Soup Contamination

The Hancock County Health Department has been advised by the Mississippi State Board of Health that Campbell Soup Company is recalling all of the chicken-vegetable soup packages manufactured between Feb. 1 and Feb. 15, 1971.

On Vacation

Mrs. Max Parre writes both society and general news for "The Sea Coast Echo". She is on vacation from Aug. 23-Sept. 7. Any news items or letters should be sent to her at her home in Bay St. Louis.

Organization To Aid Elderly Seeks Support

At a recent meeting of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors Lucien Kild, county Civil Defense director, made a plea for support of a newly formed organization to aid the elderly of the community.

The pilot group, headed by two women long active in community service, will enlist the aid of a task force of local citizens to work for the elderly within the framework of all other governmental agencies now in effect in the county.

Mrs. C. R. Beyer and Mrs. Charles Giles head a committee for the Older Americans Area-wide Project. The program will function in correlation with the recently contracted Mississippi Council on Aging. A federal grant of $261,863 has been awarded to the Mississippi Council for a period of one year ending June 1972. The area covered by the project will include three coastal counties: Hancock, Harrison and Jackson.

Primary aim of the project is to attempt to provide alternative living arrangements for the elderly, enabling them to live in their own homes in the community rather than having to be institutionalized.

Major problems facing older citizens are listed as: financial instability, lack of family support, poor health, and isolation.

TIDES

DAY AFTER TOMORROW
Tides are high at 6:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. Low at 12:00 p.m. and 12:00 a.m.

Reeves Wins Lipton Eliminations

Bill Reeves won the six-race Round Robin series Saturday and Sunday, August 21 and 22 on the Bay-Wave Yacht Club race course. This was a contest of the six top expert skippers to determine the four who will represent BWCY in the Sir Thomas Lipton Regatta at Pine Island, Florida, September 1-5.

JOHNSONGRASS

You can just about eradicate johnsongrass in cotton and soybeans with spot treatments. Dalapon and Glytac are both off active. Two to three trips may be needed with Dalapon but two trips across the field will do with Glytac. Glytac is labeled for use in both cotton and soybeans, but Dalapon is labeled only for cotton. MSMA is not labeled for either crop. Late spraying with these chemicals may result in arachnid residues.

WINTER GRAZING

Don't try to grow winter grazing without fertilizer. The best bet is to test your soil. This takes the guess-work out of the fertilizer program. Using either too little or too much cuts into your profits. If for some reason you do not have a soil test, then use enough mixed fertilizer at planting time to give a 60-60-60 mixture of nitrogen, phosphate and potash per acre. Then as additional grazing is needed, put on additional nitrogen. Agricultural Experiment Station tests have shown profitable returns on rates of up to 300 pounds of nitrogen per acre. BACKRUBBERS AND SACK DUSTERS

Hornflies have a tendency to increase greatly at this time of year, so don't let up on your control efforts. Make sure that the backrubbers are recharged regularly with a recommended insecticide and that the sack dusters have ample amounts of dust in them. Keeping the backrubbers and dusters well charged through the late summer and fall will also tend to hold down infestations of cattle lice after cool weather arrives.

SAFETY

With Labor Day weekend coming up soon, it is a good time to take a safety check. If you are planning fishing or boating trips, learn and obey the rules for safety. These include avoiding overloading of a boat and the necessity of having approved life preservers for all hands. Know and obey the rules of the road in boating.

Social Security Information

Many young workers are not taking advantage of a recent change in the Social Security Law, reports Jo Ann Haffner, Social Security Administration representative in the Gulfport area.

Previously, a worker needed five years of work out of the ten years, including when they became disabled, to meet the work requirements. This is no longer the case.

Workers who are disabled by an accident or illness can now earn sufficient work credits to qualify for Social Security disability benefits after only two years of work.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lang Jr., their sons Mark and Ricky, and daughter Cheryl of Lafayette, La., visited over the weekend with his parents.

Echoes

August Frank Collier, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Collier of this city, who enlisted in the U.S. Air Force June 1, recently completed basic training at Lackland and is presently stationed at Keesler AFB, Hattiesburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Priest returned Sunday from the South Pass Tarpon Lodge, Empire, La., where they enjoyed some sea fishing.

Scott Tudury, of Morton City, La., who has been visiting his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Theo Tudury, was joined over the weekend by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theo Tudury Jr. They returned home Sunday.

Clarence Tudury, who has been making his home for the past eight years in Chicago, Ill., with his second wife and daughter, Mrs. and Mrs. Rita Peters, has returned to Bay St. Louis and will make his home with his parents, Mrs. Lillian Tudury and Mrs. Stella Gaudin.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Peters who remained for a week's visit.

AIRPORT TO RECEIVE

ure for the study was 100,015 head but this is simply a projection on continued shipper use. We already know of additional users who are willing to supply letters of shipping intent.

"To Stennis Field this traffic will mean an income of approximately $185,000 in the first year of operation rising to $263,000 more or less after five years.

"Additionally we will be realizing further revenues from other cargo operations and we have already received overtures from interested parties to establish aircraft overhaul and refurbishment facilities at the airport."

On a final point of explanation Hill said he had received many inquiries concerning the institution of passenger carrier rights to and from Stennis Field.

"In our opinion this field, located as it is inside the NASA K-13 Buffer Zone, only about 15 miles from the Gulfport airport and around 60 miles from Biloxi, best lends itself to feeder airline type operations and we are already in contact with three such airlines for service to Gulf Central."

Letters to the editor

The trend toward socialism in the United States is becoming more and more disturbing. Public roads and schools were bad enough, and I suppose, necessary, but public housing, welfare, food stamps, rent subsidies, guaranteed annual income, etc., are the steps that will bring this nation to its knees. Why can't these people go to WORK like the rest of us have to do?

Between paying taxes to support the loafers and filling out government forms, it is hardly worth living any more.

Sincerely,
Wm. Q. Ladner

Thomas Jefferson

Knight of the Frontier

One of Andrew Jackson's adversaries — and no president has ever had more bitter ones — said of him when he was elected to a second term: "He can be President for Life if he chooses."

The observation was testimony to the extraordinary hold Old Hickory had upon the imagination of the plain people of his time.

Andrew Jackson represented the qualities that were best in them, the ones they were most proud of. He was the brilliant embodiment — as Lincoln was later — of the pioneer American, who broke his way through the virgin wilderness and built a new world for old peoples.

All the incidents of his life exhibited an almost fantastic courage, a fighting nerve, a will capable of astounding exploits that stimulated his followers and captivated a world of men to whom deeds of daring were commonplace. He was a true Knight of the Frontier.

MAYOR WARREN CARVER of Bay St. Louis pins a new badge of office on Assistant Fire Chief Edward Fritsch, Jr. in a ceremony Tuesday at City Hall. City Commissioners William Frisbie and Andre Armandeau stand by after each pinned other Fire Department insignia on Fritsch's collar. The fire department is under a program of re-organization and training under state and nationally endorsed Fire rating codes.

NICE WORK if you can get it. Pamela Thomas, a Bay St. Louis MPTA student worker is pictured on the job as a life preserver at the MPTA Center in Ocean Springs, Ala. The center is sponsored by Kingsley House in New Orleans, and the MPTA Word seminars in the Bay.

Echoes

Family Entertainment Mutual of Omaha's Wild Kingdom Premieres

Program star Marlin Perkins, created on location during the filming of the popular television series.

Adventurous, entertaining and educational best describe the upcoming season for "Mutual of Omaha's Wild Kingdom" television series.

One of the longest running programs in the history of television, "Mutual of Omaha's Wild Kingdom" enters its tenth season on Sept. 12, with premiere programs being viewed coast to coast on more than 200 television stations. With these shows and those to follow, the popular series will once again transport viewers to remote centers of the globe for first-hand observations of the patterns of wild life and nature.

Canceled at the end of last season because of the new work prime time scheduling restrictions, "Mutual of Omaha's Wild Kingdom" was offered in syndication to local television stations throughout the United States. As a result of the interest shown by them to telecast the program, more viewers than ever before will be able to watch the four time "Empty" award series.

Every week, Marlin Perkins, one of the world's leading zoologists and program host, will take viewers on a journey to a different part of the wild kingdom. He will be joined by co-hosts which include Jim Fowler, Stan Brock and Tommy Allen. The man behind the scenes is Producer Director Don Meier.

A World Map-a-Program Guide for 1971 is available at local Mutual of Omaha offices.

Infant Baptized

Lord Catherine, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Lutz, was baptized Sunday at Corpus Christi Church, Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. Lutz is the former Erin Heltmann of Bay St. Louis.

FARMERS' FORUM

THE LATEST NEWS AND VIEWS ON FARMING

A BRONZE FIELD MAY MEAN LESS YIELD

When a soybean field begins to look bronze, and the rays of the setting sun are not painting it so, the trouble may be a poor soil field.

Yet, until recent years, few growers understood the value of micronutrients — minute soil-nourishing agents — as a critical factor to good plant growth.

Today, however, experienced farmers are learning how to cope with micronutrient deficiencies. The first step, of course, is to be able to recognize starved soil symptoms in the crop. The next step is to administer the cure.

Because beans are particularly prone to zinc shortage, growers should be watching for leaves that are light tan to yellow, in color and appear crinkled. Small areas of red-rust color may develop on some leaves and, as the zinc deficiency becomes severe, the entire field takes on a bronze appearance.

The bronze spots are very small and irregular at first, but grow in size as the deficiency gets worse. If allowed to progress to this point, the beans will not recover completely — and serious yield reductions can be expected.

How can zinc deficiency be checked before it cuts into yield? The answer, to more and more growers, is the addition of small amounts of zinc chelates such as Sequestrene to the soil.

A chelate is a compound formed by combining metal with an organic mixture which acts like a claw — holding the metal ion and preventing it from readily entering into soil reactions. Unlike other sources of micronutrients, such as sulfates and chlorides, metal chelates can not become "tied up" in the ground, but remain in a soluble form the plants can absorb.

Further, zinc chelates can be applied dry or as a liquid and can be combined with dry or liquid fertilizer.

Proving unusually successful in zinc deficient areas, chelates have not only boosted yields, but lifted "yield barriers" as well.

It might even be said that the soybean "bronze age" — is effectively yielding to a new zinc era.

Bridging The Communication Gap

"Swimming at 1400 ... most at the beach ... and out."

These kids are having a great time at the camps with their make-believe walkie-talkies. And it's extra fun because they made the toys themselves from Pure-Pak Plasticartons.

To make a walkie-talkie, all you do is take an empty Pure-Pak milk carton, cut away the gable top and tape on a lid. Next cut slashes along a side panel for the earphone and glue on a thin cardboard circle for a mouthpiece. Drinking straws for an antenna, string for wire, a little paint or contact paper ... and it's "Come in, central control."

It's just one of many ways kids can use their creativity with Plasticartons after they drink the milk. It's ideal to bring milk to your summer outings in cartons. When it's time to throw it in a trash barrel, the carton crushes to a compact size. It can also be used as a neat, sanitary container for picnic garbage, and there's no worry about broken glass. Cartons are also biodegradable — they ultimately decompose to substances natural to the environment.

Cheese? Yes, all kinds of dogs love cheese, and the 300 dogs that make up the unique Kennel-Eaton taste panel spent months proving it. The result is a new cheese flavored dog food. The taste panel members, who live on a country estate near Barrington, Illinois, are responsible for testing proposed new dog food formulations, and indicating their response to new flavors, textures and forms.

When the idea of a cheese flavored dog food was recently proposed, the canine tasters went into action.

The first step in developing this food was an initial test by the taste panel: the dogs were fed food flavored with cheese to see whether or not the flavor appealed to them. The analysis of test results showed that the flavor does, indeed, have high appeal.

Human researchers and nutritionists then developed the many possible formulations for the new food, which was analyzed for the necessary vitamins and minerals.

Once the nutritional formulations checked out perfectly in the laboratory, they were prepared in carefully measured amounts for the taste panel to sample. Over a period of time, the data indicated that the dogs responded very favorably to cheddar and blue cheese.

The development of the new Kennel-Eaton Cheese Flavored Burger, with the well liked cheddar and blue cheese, took several years. Work on the product—and on all new dog food products—continues, until researchers and veterinarians and the members of the canine taste panel — are confident that the pet food is the most nutritious and appealing product available.

Bicycling Is Trendy In Bay St. Louis

More and more people are taking to the streets on wheels. Bicycling is becoming a popular mode of transportation in Bay St. Louis, and it is also becoming a fashionable sport.

One of the reasons why bicycling is so popular is that it is a cheap mode of transportation. It is also a healthy mode of transportation, and it is a fashionable mode of transportation.

There's A Peach Of A Bottle!

Have you a peach tree, or a peach tree in your garden? Good. All you need now is an empty, clear, whiskey bottle (clean).

Select a likely little nubbin of a peach or a pear, slip the bottle over it, branch and all. Tie it on and leave it till autumn. The fruit will grow inside the bottle. When it's large and ripe, cut the stalk, take the bottle inside and pour Wild Turkey Bourbon or other likely spirit over it and close the bottle. You can never get the peach out, but it looks most amusing, gives the spirits around it a very subtle flavor, and will amaze your dinner guests.

And speaking of another kind of turkey—have you ever had turkey with cheese? It goes perfectly with it. The Italian chefs, who are very good turkey cooks, have several excellent ways of cooking turkey breasts with cheese.

Slice leftover breast of turkey and place between two sheets of wax paper and beat them out thin with a rolling pin. Dip them in seasoned flour, fry them gently in butter. Add half a glass of white wine or Wild Turkey Bourbon, go on cooking gently till some of the liquid has evaporated. Push them aside and stir a tablespoonful of water into the delicious liquid on the bottom of the pan. Then turn your turkey slices over, cover them thickly with grated Parmesan cheese. Add a couple of spoonfuls of water, no more, put on the lid and leave them on a low heat for about five minutes, just long enough for the cheese to melt and the turkey to be tender and delicious.

Lighten up by offering up those Thanksgiving-day leftovers, with stuffing and cranberry on the side.

Serve your peach of a bottle of Wild Turkey Bourbon first. The peach will be gone before the turkey is talked about.

City Echoes

Bridging The Communications Gap

These kids are having a great time at the campsite with their make-believe walkie-talkies. And it's extra fun because they made the toys themselves from Pure-Pak Plasticartons.

To make a walkie-talkie, all you do is take an empty Pure-Pak milk carton, cut away the gable top and tape on a lid. Next cut slashes along a side panel for the earphone and glue on a thin cardboard circle for a mouthpiece. Drinking straws for an antenna, string for wire, a little paint or contact paper... and it's "Come in, central control..."

It's just one of many ways kids can use their creativity with Plasticartons after they drink the milk.

It's ideal to bring milk to your summer outings in cartons. When it's time to throw it in a trash barrel, the carton crushes to a compact size. It can also be used as a neat, sanitary container for picnic garbage, and there's no worry about broken glass. Cartons are also biodegradable — they ultimately decompose to substances natural to the environment.

Washington Russets in Hearty Casserole

This West Highland, while tarrier always looks happy at meal times — thanks to cheese.

Cheese? Yes, all kinds of dogs love cheese, and the 300 dogs must make up the unique Ken's Eaten taste panel spent months proving it. The result is a new cheese flavored dog food.

The taste panel members, who live on a country estate near Barrington, Illinois, are responsible for testing proposed new dog food formulations, and indicating their responses to new flavors, textures, and forms.

When the idea of a cheese flavored dog food was recently proposed to the canine tasters went into action.

The first step in developing this taste panel is initial test the food panel; the dogs were fed food flavored with cheese to see whether or not the flavor appealed to them. The analysis of test results showed that the dogs do, indeed, have a major appeal.

Human researchers and nutritionists then developed the many possible formulations for the new food. Each was analyzed for the necessary vitamins and minerals.

Once the nutritional formulations checked out perfectly in the laboratory, they prepared in-carefully measured amounts for the taste panel to sample. Over a period of time, the data indicated that the dogs responded very favorably to cheddar and blue.

The development of the new Ken's Eaten Cheese Flavored Broughton, with the well-liked cheddar and blue cheese, took several years. Work on the product—and on all new dog food products—continues, with researchers and veterinarians and the members of the canine taste panel — are confident that the product is the most nutritious and appealing product available.

Stanislaus Offers Free Lunch Program

Brother Lee Barker, principal, today announced a free and reduced price lunch policy for St. Stanislaus students unable to pay the full price. Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income scale to assist them in determining eligibility.

For each additional family member, add $480.

Families falling within these scales or those suffering from unusual circumstances or hardships are urged to apply for free or reduced price lunches for their children. They may do so by filling in the application forms sent home in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. Applications may be submitted any time during the school year. The form itself is simple to complete and requests information needed to determine economic need based on the income and number of persons in the family.

Under the provisions of the policy the principal at St. Stanislaus will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the local official, he may make a request either orally or in writing for a hearing to appeal the decision. Brother Barker, whose address is P.O. Box 551, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, has been designated as the Hearing Official. Hearing procedures are outlined in the policy.

The policy also provides that there will be no identification of or discrimination against any student unable to pay the full cost of a lunch. A complete copy of the policy is on file in each school and in the office of the Principal where it may be reviewed by any interested patron.

MIKE LETORT, of Biloxi and Joyce McCauley, right of Long Beach, are shown with Dr. Buena S. Ballard, associate professor of biology at Southwestern State College of Oklahoma, their instructor at the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory of Ocean Springs, Mississippi. Letort is a senior at University of Southern Mississippi and Mrs. McCauley, a graduate of Newcomb College, Louisiana. Letort is the son of Fred H. Letort of Route 4, Biloxi. Mrs. McCauley and her husband, Samuel A., reside on Beathline Road. The course they took is called Introduction to Marine Zoology.
